In Short —

In the recent election, the town turned in the record largest Republican margin in history. 11,131 largest margin recorded for Montgomery was in 1928, when it polled an extra 53,651.

Reports of the Ardmore campaign to improve parking conditions are highly favorable. The 30-minute parking plan will be extended to include the business area of Montgomery and one and side streets.

The Emergency Aid plans a bazaar to be held in the ballroom of the Bellevue-Stratford, November 28, 19 A. M. to 10 P. M. Christmas gift will be featured as 27 hospital and occupational therapy shops and three women's exchanges combine activities.

Eleven million new nickels went in to circulation this week. The coins bear the profile of Thomas Jefferson, third President of the United States and author of the Declaration of Independence. On the reverse side is a representation of Monticello.

Only two other persons have been pictured on regular United States coins, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

This is the season when valuable hunting dogs disappear over night. Peter C. Barr, special investigator for the humane societies, reports complaints have been received from at least 15 Main Line residents that pets have been stolen. Thieves sell the dogs to hunters and reap a rich harvest. Owners are warned to keep close watch on their dogs.

A fungus disease, concerning which very little is known, is doing great damage in this region to sycamore, also known as plane or buttonwood or buttonball trees. Reports state that approximately one-third of the township's sycamores have been killed and that many more are affected.

John Kenealy, township tree warden, reports that a study of the plane tree disease will be carried on at the University of Pennsylvania by the Morris Arboretum and the Department of Botany. Funds to carry on the project will be sought by a special committee to be appointed.

William J. Lloyd, manager of the Ardmore Branch of the Pennsylvania Company, is the new president of the Main Line Kiwanis Club. Other officers: Robert E. L. Johnson, vice-president; Lester S. Lamb, treasurer; B. C. Burlingame, M. J. Casey, Frederick Dreher, Charles Fanslow, Harry Fried, Sandy L. Hurst and William C. Wilson, directors.

The Reverend Andrew Mutch D.D., retired pastor of Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, will be the main speaker at the annual Founder's Day exercises of Drexel Institute of Technology, according to an announcement by Dr. Parke R. Kolbe, president of the college. This traditional program, honoring the memory of the late Anthony Drexel, founder, will be held in the Drexel auditorium, December 6.

The current exhibition at Bryn Mawr Art Center is of photographs by Alice Benedict Jackson, Bryn Mawr, a national figure in the photographic world. The exhibition is open to the public every day but Sundays and holidays from November 12 to December 2.

An Armistice Day poem by Robert H. Durbin, 231 N. Narberth avenue, was read as part of the memorial service of the Strawbridge & Clothier Main Line store.

Edward E. Bailey, 521 Gordon avenue, boasts a cherry tree in full bloom in the rear of his yard.

Tad Shepperd, 307 Clwyd road, Cynwyd, licensed gentleman jockey and professional actor and dancer, has just published a book of verse, "Pack and Paddock." Inspiration for the poems was drawn from experiences riding at hunts, horse shows and steeplechases.

Horse Thieves Beware!

Century-Old Society Still Functions;
Main Problem Today is Eating

The Lower Merion Society for the Recovery of Stolen Horses and the Detection of Horse Thieves held its regular annual meeting Saturday at the Masonic Hall in Ardmore.

This organization is well over one hundred years old—so old, in fact, that no one seems to remember just when it was started and the records do not tell. A very vital civic group, its chief function was aptly expressed in its name.

Today, however, the society has merged into one for the detection of oysters. Their annual meeting has turned into a banquet with oysters as the main dish—raw, stewed, fried, scalloped, fricassed, all at the same meal. Turkey with the usual trimmings is a sideline of the dinner but practically every other course is oysters!

One hundred and twenty-five persons attended the affair Saturday, at which Luther C. Parsons, of Narberth, president for over 25 years and member for over 50, was re-elected. Other officers are: Walter Latch, vice-president; Richard J. Hamilton, secretary; Dr. Clifford H. Arnold, treasurer.

The team will play at Oberlin College, Ohio, on Friday; Slippery Rock Teachers' College, Saturday; West Chester State Teachers' College, Monday; Western Maryland, Tuesday; Franklin and Marshall, Thursday; and Howard University in Washington, D. C., on Friday, November 25.

The team will be extensively entertained in Narberth.

Local Landmark Changes Hands

Haven of Traveler, Desolate, Lonely, Sold
by Estate of Miss Posey

Narberth's old-timers shake their heads. As nearly as they can figure, at least 30 years have elapsed since the place was turned into a sanctuary and home. As to the date of the first building, that has escaped completely.

True, the original plot was smaller than it is today and so was the structure on it. Narberthites recall the addition of the first annex, the enlargement of the lot, and, just before Philadelphia's Sesqui-centennial, the building of the ell in the rear.

Many the tale the rocking chairs, hard used on porch and lawn, could tell. Business, gossip, confidences—talk of sorrow, war, loneliness, hope, despair—all have been exchanged over their arms as the occupants rocked and rocked.

Council Takes Bite Out of Sewer Debt

Borough Pays Off $5000 at Regular Meeting; Work
Started on Budget

Narberth Borough Council announced Monday that the first $5000 of the $20,000 bond issue for the construction of a storm water sewer in Indian Creek will be paid on December 1, out of the sinking fund. The issue was sold five years ago. The creek runs through Narbrook Park, under the playground, continuing through the south side of the borough.

In taking up the 1939 budget council received a request from the Planning Commission for a budget of $1000, with additional funds to be used to cut away the corners of the east side of the intersection at Wynne-wood and Montgomery avenues, regarded as a dangerous hazard.

The Library Board of Trustees asks council for $2500, with an additional $700 for the purchase of new equipment. The circulation of the library has increased 4708 over last year and additional shelves are necessary.

Both recommendations were referred to the Finance Commission for future consideration.

The council passed on third reading an ordinance which prohibits motorists from driving over curbs to enter their properties and prohibits storage closer than 50 feet from the center of the street. The Property Committee's plea for new roofing for a section of the community building was approved.

Traffic and parking violations for the last month were as follows: 27 stop signs, 34 parking, and 62 all-night parking.

Narberth Women Act As Luncheon Hostesses

Margaret Harshaw Pleases With Group of Songs

OTHER NEWS OF CLUB

Dramatized by the rich contralto voice of Margaret Harshaw, the Lord's Prayer became a living thing as she sang it Tuesday preceding the luncheon which the Women's Community Club of Narberth gave at Green Hill Farms to twenty-three officers and club presidents of Montgomery County.

Following the luncheon Miss Harshaw sang a group of German Lieder songs, the French aria from Samson and Delilah, and some American songs, adding greatly to the pleasure of her listeners by giving short narratives about the numbers.

The dramatic contrast in "The Maiden and Death" by Schubert displayed both the opulent power and rich sweetness of her voice, while "I Heard a Forest Praying" by Peter De-Rose was one of the loveliest of the American group. Miss Harshaw, formerly a Narberth girl, has studied at the Julliard School in New York for the past three years and has sung on a concert program with Jose Iturbi and recently on the Metropolitan Opera auditions over the radio. She was

Restaurant Petition

Will Not Allow Public Dining Room
in Montgomery Court

The Narberth Zoning Board of Adjustment, at a public hearing in Elm Hall, Tuesday evening ruled against a public dining room in the new Montgomery Court Apartments.

The petition was read by William J. Kirkpatrick, of the zoning board. It was protested by Messrs. Robert W. Beatty, Adam Wilson, James Sheron, Chester Tyson, Stanley E. Haigh, Richard L. Timm and others. No one spoke to defend it and so the vote of all three members of the board, W. D. R. Evans, chairman; Walter Dothard and Mr. Kirkpatrick, that permission be denied, was immediately carried. Some twenty persons attended the meeting, and the sentiment was overwhelmingly against the restaurant plan.

Three-Cents-A-Day

Hospital Plan Gains Popularity;
Viewed as a Family Necessity

At a meeting of the Board of Trustees on Monday, Bryn Mawr Hospital voted to join the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia. Signing of the contract will officially install the plan in the local hospital.

Thomas S. Gates, Jr., president of the associated hospital service, Philadelphia, predicts that large numbers of persons will save money on hospital bills during the next few months through membership in the "three-cents-a-day" hospital service plan, inaugurated November 7.

"The coming months are the danger months of the year," Mr. Gates declares. "November and December are among the worst months for traffic accidents. Typical winter illnesses, such as pneumonia, also cause a rise in the number of cases requiring hospital treatment."

Subscribers to the non-profit community-wide hospital service plan will be entitled to hospital care in any one of the member hospitals which have announced their intention to cooperate with the plan. This will benefit the 80 to 95 per cent of American families who do not or cannot make adequate provision against possible hospital bills, despite the fact that one person in five goes to the hospital annually. Members are enrolled in employed groups rather than individually. For 75 cents monthly an individual may subscribe to the plan; for $2 monthly he may enroll his entire family.

Benefits include 21 days of hospital care annually in any one of the member hospitals with: hospital bed and board, all operating room and delivery room expense, surgical dressings, anesthesia, physical therapy, drugs and medicines, general nursing service, routine care, and the following medical services when incident to hospitalization: X-ray up to $35; laboratory examinations up to $25; electrocardiograms up to $15; basal metabolism up to $10. In addition, the plan provides 25 per cent discount for 120 days annually, and will pay $5.50 per day toward the hospital care of a member hospitalized for accident or emergency anywhere in the world.

E. A. van Steenwyk, executive director of the "three-cents-a-day" plan, predicts a membership of 50,000 persons before January 1, 1939.

"With the co-operation and support we are now getting from public-spirited citizens and employers, we believe it will not be long before hospital care is available to everyone at a price they can afford."

EVERYBODY WAS THERE

BY C. A. BRYE

Sober recollections of the war years reflections on the dubious results of the generation which had since ensued the gay note which must prevail as the future is faced and progress gained—all these things had their full flame at the Armistice Day Banquet of the Harold D. Speakman Post last Friday night in the Community Building, quite a notable occasion and no doubt about it.

Four set speeches had been indicated for the program, but, happily, three of the outside orators failed to appear, which left Charles S. Swope, Ph.D., President of the West Chester State Teachers' College, as the sole imported performer, and a splendid job he made of it, in subject-matter, delivery and anecdote—a man to remember when you want memorable things said in a convincing and cultured manner.

The absence of the three others was laid to divers causes, with the preponderance of the evidence confirming the rather general belief that they had been diverted by wires sent them by the unbridled toastmaster, Hon. Robert C. Collins, who, it was claimed, sought to adopt this devious way of putting on a harrowing spot those past commanders et al for whom he long had held a large dimentioned grudge.

Despite the anatomic kinship with Chauncy Depew which he proclaimed, Mr. Collins did not produce the writhing spectacles on which he had apparently set his heart, or spleen, as the case might be. The reason was that his intended victims, one and all, did handsomely for their own cause, the toastmaster's always apt stories inevitably delivering them to that eruptive point where they could, with gusto and enormous facility, describe Sir Robert as an unparalleled liar of the first order, after which the rest of the speech flowed like unto a lucid brook.

One Demosthenes compromised by calling the intrepid interlocutor an Ananias, which, being translated, means the same thing, but even that

Fuller Scores Heavy Load of State Taxes

Penn Valley Man Urges Legislation Change at Poor
Richard Club

Walter D. Fuller, president of Curtis Publishing Company and of the Penn Valley Association, on Tuesday spoke at a luncheon of the Poor Richard Club in behalf of the Emergency Council of State Associations, of which he is chairman.

Mr. Fuller made a plea for citizens to impress state senators and representatives with the necessity of readjusting excessive state taxation on business. New and wealthy industries have, times untold, sought location elsewhere when they found taxation business here to be exorbitant.

The speaker pointed out that Pennsylvania ranked below 33 other states in percentage gain of employment in August; that taxes have netted an average of $150,000,000 a year, which could have gone into payrolls; that from 1935 to 1938 this state made a gain of 74 new businesses compared to New Jersey's 2250; that there can be no prosperity for either workers or business as long as the tax collector takes money that should go into pay envelopes.

The Girls' Glee Club of Narberth School, under Miss Frick's direction, will sing.

The summer Travel Club book awards will be made by Librarian Clara Follette.

Book Week and Children's Books
Featured

The Narberth Community Library, in company with other libraries the nation over, is celebrating Book Week (November 13-19).

The corner of the Library usually occupied by the Fireside Shelf, is given over to new children's books that are new in the sense that they have bright new covers, for there are always older books worth adding to the shelves as well as newly published books. These books of the year for young people, which are particularly worthwhile are "The White Stag," by Kate Seredy, winner of the 1938 John Newberry Medal; "Annals of the Bible," illustrated by Dorothy Lathrop, 1938, and first winner of the Caldecott Medal for distinguished picture books; and "The Hobbit," by J. R. R. Tolkien, winner of the Herald-Tribune award for the best book for younger children to be published in the spring of 1938. Among the newest arrivals from the press are two by the author of "Ferdinand," "Wee Gills," and "Safe Can Be Fun."

The Churches

Twenty-five thousand Methodist Episcopal churches throughout the country are observing Fellowship week. Programs are leading up to Fellowship Sunday, November 20, when all-day meetings will launch the new church year. The week set aside to strengthen local churches, kindle Christian vision, and deepen the understanding of the purpose of the church, is sponsored by the Million Unit fellowship movement, a worldwide movement to stimulate spiritual life in the Methodist Episcopal church and to provide a better financial underwriting for its missions and benevolences.

The local Baptist church of the Evangel is celebrating its 55th anniversary this week. A special series of talks has been in charge of Rev. Robert E. Keighton.

Boy Scouts

BY WM. E. FERGUSON

A very important meeting of the Advancement Committee of the Main Line District was held Tuesday evening at the branch office in Ardmore at which time important changes affecting the Court of Honor and the Board of Review. The meeting, presided over by its chairman, Everett S. Strang, was well attended and brought forth lively discussion before final passage of the new system.

Most important of all business transacted was the complete change in the method of interview at the Court of Honor to go into effect the first of the coming year. Instead of the present form of re-passing tests, however, the process will consist of an informal interview between scout and scoutmaster, the scout giving practical demonstration of his work and showing how far he really has gone in the subject. This will eliminate the repetition of testing that has already been done between scout and Merit Badge Examiner. It should cut the lengthy time of the present Courts and should serve as an inspiration to the boy to go further in his particular subject.

A small deposit will hold any purchase until Christmas at the NARBERTH MEN'S SHOP

They'll Be Thankful!

Are the folks at home wondering whether you'll be there for Thanksgiving? Call them by Long Distance and let them know when you'll arrive.

Will your plans for the trip be changed at the last minute? Let them know! They'll be thankful for your thoughtfulness.

Or does something prevent your going home for the holiday? Then have a telephone voice visit instead. They'll be glad to hear your voice.

And you'll be thankful for the fast, clear, accurate service on Long Distance calls—a service that makes it easy for you to reach almost anyone, anywhere by telephone—at low cost.

LONG DISTANCE RATES REDUCED ALL DAY THANKSGIVING!

The low night rates in effect on most Long Distance calls every night after 7 and all day Sunday will apply ALL THANKSGIVING DAY!

THE BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY OF PENNSYLVANIA

It was also decided to hold all cards denoting passage of a subject until two or three days after the Court, at which time these cards, along with the names of boys failing to pass their tests, will be sent to the Scoutmaster of each troop. This allows a boy to be told directly by his scoutmaster that he passed or failed and, if the latter case be true, to save the boy embarrassment by being told of his failure in front of his associates. The same will also be true in the case of the Board of Review.

A new plan for the lineup of scouts was presented by Earl L. Vondersmith, vice-chairman in charge of the Court of Honor, and also a new plan for procedure at the Court of Honor.

A most important piece of business was decided when it was voted that a meeting of all Merit Badge Counselors in the Main Line District would be held Thursday evening, December 8, at 8 o'clock. Counselors will receive additional information regarding this meeting which will mark the first time that such a meeting has been held in the Main Line District. At this meeting a general discussion will be held by the examiners on Merit Badge work with group discussion of pertinent problems following the main meeting.

Those who attended Tuesday's meeting were:

Court of Honor: E. N. Strang, chairman of the Advancement Committee; Earl L. Vondersmith, vice-chairman in charge of the Court of Honor; J. H. Neher, Merit Badge Dean; C. Fred Kuebler, Jr., Wynnewood No. 1; R. T. Burns, Ardmore No. 2; W. J. Drennan, Narberth No. 2; L. P. Hoff, Bala No. 3, and C. H. Dougherty, Ardmore No. 4.

Upper Darby, 25; Lower Merion, 6.
Episcopal, 16; Friend, 7. Central, 6.

A treat is in store for women's field hockey fans at Merion Cricket next week end. Game now about. The match Sunday, women's team, should provide enough excitement to keep even newcomers to the grandstand interested.

The Villanova squad will probably keep fingers crossed from now on, but that they need to, so as not to spoil the record. When a team goes through a second undefeated season in a row it's either got a rabbit's foot in its back pocket or it's just got what it takes. The 32,000 who saw the game against Temple are inclined to think it's the latter. Some were heard to mention Hollywood Blvd.

For the first time in 17 years, Upper Darby trained L. M. on the grid. Fans who witnessed Saturday's game are still talking about the brilliant exhibition of forward passing and ball-toting which U. D. put on.

Community Club Notes

introduced to the club by Mrs. Ed Pollock, program chairman.

The room was decorated in yellow chrysanthemums and a corsage of white chrysanthemums was at the place of each guest, who was introduced to the club by the Narberth Club president, Mrs. E. W. Heymann. Mrs. Charles R. Ridington, second vice president-at large in the State Federation, complimented the club on its 100 per cent increase in membership, written up on the Success Story page of the Pennsylvania Clubwoman.

Mrs. John Nichols Adee, Montgomery County chairman, said that reciprocity meetings were for the giving and taking of new ideas. She said that the county clubs would soon be asked to cast their vote for the Gumbel award for the Philadelphia woman giving the greatest service in 1938.

The board of directors will meet Tuesday, November 22, at 10:30 A. M., at the home of the president, Mrs. Heymann.

Mrs. Guido Bossard and Mrs. Marian P. Gray will review books at the meeting of the group on Literature and International Relations Tuesday at 1:30 at the home of Mrs. A. B. Doty. Co-hostesses for tea will be Mrs. W. R. Giles and Mrs. A. E. Hickerson.

In reviewing "Bow Down to Wood and Stone" by Josephine Lawrence, Mrs. Bossard will show how true to life are the characters of the three selfish sisters: the elder, whose drab life centers around the office where she works; the mother, who constantly reminds her children that in return for her sacrifices for them they must care for her later; and the childless wife who never left her husband for get that she educated him and gave the best years of her life to him. Mrs. Gray will review "The Penns of Pennsylvania" by Arthur Pound.

Six tables of bridge will play at the luncheon and bridge given by the Fellowship Committee of the Narberth Club today at the home of Mrs. J. S. Davidson, 329 Morris road, Wynnewood, with Mrs. W. H. Muller as co-hostess.

Mrs. E. W. Heymann, club president, attended the reciprocity luncheon given by the Woman's Club of Jenkintown yesterday and with Mrs. Leon W. Melcher, county publicity chairman, and Mrs. H. A. Jacobs, conservation chairman, went to the conference on the "Cause and Cure of War" at the Grace Presbyterian Church in Jenkintown Wednesday.

At the Tuesday meeting Mrs. W. R. Knauer asked that all members who could give toys to be renovated to the Main Line Federation of Churches call her or Mrs. C. A. Farmer by today, November 18.

Mrs. G. W. Orth, project chairman, announced a food sale to be held at the November 29 meeting of the club.

Juniors Offer Play

The Junior Woman's Club of Bala-Cynwyd will present "Another Language," a play by Rose Franken, on Friday evening, December 2, at 8:15. Miss Evelyn Dutton, a new member of the club and the director, was formerly affiliated with amateur groups in Germantown and directed several successes. The cast includes, in order of their appearance on the stage, Mary McCurdy, Mrs. James Herron, Eugene Ziner, Dorothy Denton, Jacqueline Link, Walter Dill, Louise Bates, William Dougherty, Lucille Allen, Ben Marshall and Homer Allen.

Local Landmark Changes Hands

Residents of Narberth who have missed the smiling face of Louis Evangelos in his shoe repair shop the past week will be glad to know that he is recovering from a sudden attack of bronchial pneumonia. His wife reports that the patient's temperature is down and he is able to sit up.

"Louie" is a familiar character in Narberth, having conducted his shoe in the theatre building for many years. Even little children on their way to school stop in to have Louie fasten a shoe strap, or nail down a heel. The signs on his wall read: "Service with a smile"; "Pay today—trust tomorrow."

Louis Evangelos first saw the light of day in Macedonia. At the age of 18 he came to this country to take up the shoemaking trade. He and Mrs. Evangelos live at 301 Haverford avenue, where they moved from North Philadelphia ten years ago.

Louie likes his trade wholeheartedly. In his spare time he likes to tinker with the automobile, or to sit in his favorite chair smoking a cigar.

Dr. Haslam Recommends The Out-of-Doors

Vacations in the North Woods were described Tuesday by Greville Haslam, headmaster of Episcopal Academy, to members of the Bala-Cynwyd Narberth Rotary Club at a luncheon meeting at Overbrook Golf Club.

Dr. Haslam, who has spent a number of vacations in Nova Scotia, compared roughing it with the usual kind of vacation taken by American boys, many of whom spend time at the seashore. He said the former would prove more beneficial to them.

Funeral Services Held For Margaret Rushton

Mrs. Margaret Pollock Rushton, widow of Kenneth Rushton, former vice-president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works, died Tuesday morning of pneumonia at her home, 325 East Lancaster avenue, Wynnewood.

A Main Line resident for over 25 years, she was known for her work with the Red Cross during the World War, and since has been active in the Seaside Home at Cape May, New Jersey.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Anthony S. Morris, of Ardmore, and two sons, Kenneth Rushton, Jr., and Dudley Rushton, both of Wynnewood. Funeral services were held Thursday morning from her home.

Brush Fires Quelled

Local firemen extinguished a brush fire near the garage of Mrs. L. S. Umbsen, 1226 Montgomery avenue, on Friday afternoon, shortly before one o'clock. With the truck were Richard McDevitt, Tom Casey, Earl Dickie, Emil Rosler, Harry Hollar, Howard Miller, Daniel McGarry, Jr.

Within the same hour a field fire at 223 Gypsy lane, W. B. Carroll's property, was subdued. Hollar, Rosler, Casey, McDevitt, Albert Nutty and Jack Peden answered this call.
